WILSON CONFERS WITH THREE GOP SENATORS

Describes How Conference Reached Many Agreements

WASHINGTON, July 17—How the Versailles conference reached many of the agreements embodied in the treaty of peace was described by President Wilson today to three Republican senators invited to the white house at the head of a long list of Republican members whom he purposes to take into his confidence.

Gives Much Information.

Afterward one of his caller, Senator Colt, of Rhode Island, said Mr. Wilson had been able to place the Shantung settlement in a new light and had clarified other disputed points in the treaty. Senator McCumber of North Dakota, and Senator Nelson of Minnesota, the others who saw the president, were reticent as to the subjects discussed but said the president had given them much interesting information. Senator Colt, who announced his general approval of the league of nations in a senate speech delivered shortly before he went to the white house, indicated after the conference that his doubt over certain portions of the league covenant had not been removed. He said he was not ready to express an opinion regarding Shantung and intimated that the president might make a public statement soon on the subject. Senator McCumber is to be only Republican member of the foreign relations committee who has favored the league and it is understood Mr. Wilson talked over with him committee action on the treaty and the general situation on the Republican side of the senate.

Senator Nelson never has made a public declaration for or against the treaty. To all of his callers the president is said to have reiterated his opposition to reservations of any character in senate ratification of the treaty.

Will Continue Talks.

The president tomorrow will continue his talks with senators inclined to be friendly toward the treaty provisions, tho it is expected that later he will seek a conference with virtually every Republican senator, including those who have most bitterly opposed ratification.

Senators Kellogg, Minnesota, and Kenyon, Iowa, both of whom have kept open minds on the treaty, have been invited to call on the president tomorrow morning and Senators McNary, Oregon, a league supporter, and Capper, Kansas, who has taken no definite stand, in the afternoon.

The position of the foreign relation committee with regard to meeting the president as a body was explained in a statement tonight by Chairman Lodge, who said no congressional committee has "any right or should have any right to summon" a president before it, and that Mr. Wilson had not asked to appear. He made no prediction whether the committee would accept later the president's offer to receive it at the white house but pointed out that so far committee consideration of the treaty in its preliminary stages.

Adopts Borah Resolution.

While the president was beginning his white house conferences the senate debated Shantung and the league and adopted without a record vote a resolution by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asking for information relative to the Shantung negotiations. Specifically the measure, which was not debated, asks the president for any information as to whether the Chinese delegates were "intimidated" by the Japanese and requests a copy of a letter said to have been written on behalf of General Bliss, Secretary Lansing and Henry White, protesting against the Shantung settlement.

In his address announcing acceptance of the league principles Senator Colt declared the covenant would not conflict with the American constitution nor create a super-government and asserted that if it is unthinkable for us to desert England, France and Italy when the world is in chaos then we must become a member of the league as providing the only machinery for the restoration of peace and order. He withheld judgment, however, as to the Monroe Doctrine and other features.

Senator Sherman, Republican Illinois, attacking the Shantung provision as a step toward the dismemberment of China, and the enthronement of "an Asiatic kaiser" at Tokio, declared Japan never intended to give up the peninsula passing to her control under the peace treaty. He characterized the league of nations as "the colossal confidence game of the ages."

Borah Proposes Referendum

A referendum to determine the state of popular sentiment on the league was proposed by Senator Borah who charged that information of public opinion abroad had been distorted. He read editori-

Question Ford About Letter To Wise Wood

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 17.—Henry Ford's fourth day on the witness stand in his $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune was much like yesterday in subject matter and in the prolonged multiplying of questions to obtain specific answers.

Today he was questioned concerning a letter sent by Theodore Delavigne, who was his peace publicity man in 1916 to Henry A. Wise Wood.

This letter enclosed an editorial from the Detroit Evening News as answering preparedness arguments made by Mr. Wood in a Detroit speech. Mr. Ford was quoted in Mr. Wood's speech as stating that after the war he would replace the Stars and Stripes on his factories with a world brotherhood flag.

The manufacurer testified he had been told of the flag for the use of the speech but that Mr. Delavigne wrote the Wood letter on his own responsibility. He had asked the newspapers to deny any part of the speech also he said he had denied it often in other quarters.

"Apparently you now think that the statement that you were going to lower the flag was a reflection on you?" suggested Mr. Stevenson.

"It was a detriment, yes sir."

Scattered thru his testimony it appeared that Mr. Ford ascribed the world war to a variety of causes including bankers munition makers, alcoholic drink, and their henchmen and school books. John Reed, a magazine writer of New York and recent Bolsheviki emissary to the United States disclosed the alleged facts in an article published in 1916. It was entitled "industry's miracle maker" which Attorney Lucking characteried as "much Reed and little Ford."

Reed in his article said Mr. Ford criticised school books as glorifying wars and the heroes of them, thus instilling the military spirit in the youngsters. The Detroit manufacturer in explaining why he forgot so many things said that hundreds of persons visit the factory and that he talked to many of them, making casual remarks passed from his head almost as soon as made.

START MOVEMENT TO BOYCOTT PROFITEERS

CHICAGO, July 17.—A movement to boycott profiteers and thus reduce the high cost of living was started here today at a meeting of Chicago women including several social workers who plan the formation of a national anti-profiteering league.

It is planned to enroll more than half a million families in Chicago and then send delegates to other large cities for the purpose of forming branches. One of the first moves in the campaign wil be to send questionnaires to dealers in foodstuffs thruout the city asking for retail and wholesale prices.

"We are determined to use every available means to drive the speculator and profiteer out of business," declared Mrs. Melva G. Funk, chaisman of the tentative organization.

TO RECOMMEND PROBE OF SHIPPING BOARD

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Without a dissenting vote the house rules committee today decided to recommend that an investigation of the expenses and operations of the shipping board and emergency fleet corporation be ordered by the house. Democratic members urged assignment of the task to the committee on merchant marine, but the Republican committee men insisted on their party leaders' plans for a special committee of six members. Early action in the house was planned.

OUST BELA KUN FROM HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

Report Troops Entering Budapest—City In Disorder

PARIS, July 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—Bela Kun, head of the Hungarian communist government has been ousted, according to despatches from reliable sources in Vienna received by the peace conference.

Troops returning from the Czech front were reported entering Budapest in large numbers. Budapest was in disorder. Herr Boehm and Herr Lander have taken over control of the communist government.

Bela Kun, was reported in a Budapest dispatch received Wednesday to have broken with nearly all of the Socialist leaders. Officers of the soviet army were said to be deserting at every opportunity. The communist leader was quoted as having told his minister of education that he was tired of trying to ride Socialist and communist horses at the same time.

Her Boehm, who has been commander of the Hungarian armies was reported in prison in a dispatch from Vienna Wednesday. This dispatch also stated that Bela Kun was seeking some excuse to leave Hungary and that he would not return.

Bela Kun assumed the post of foreign commissary or minister of foreign affairs in the Hungarian soviet government which succeeded the Republican government set up by Count Karolyi. He took office in March, 1919 and immediately got in touch with the heads of the Russian soviet government. He was considered the founder of the communist party in Hungary. The council of five at Paris, July 5, reached the conclusion, it was stated that it was impossible to make peace with Bela Kun's government. Consequently it was considered necessary to maintain the blockade. Recent events in Budapest have presaged trouble. An attack was made on the soviet headquarters by three monitors in the Danube, aided by land forces on July 2. As a result of this uprising forty youths from the Budapest military academy and three officers were hanged. Bela Kun then issued a proclamation stating:

"Blood shall flow henceforth, if necessary to insure the protection of the proletariat."

Since Bela Kun's advent to power there has been much friction between the Hungarian government and the allied representatives.

To Push Extra Cavalry Division Organization

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Organization of the extra cavalry division provided for in the war department plans for the national guard will be pushed vigorously, it was said today at the department. There is no anticipation that the sixteen divisions of infantry corresponding to the war organization of the state forces will be completed this year, but efforts will be made to get the cavalry unit, six regiments of which will be raised in Texas, in condition to be mobilized against any emergency.

The infantry divisions will be numbered 51 to 66, inclusive, instead of 26 to 42 as during the war. The numbers up to and including fifty are reserved for regular army divisions most of which would be created only in the event of war. Plans for the regular organization call for a cavalry division recruited from the entire country, but also stationed on the Texas.

The national guard re-organization plans as announced, make immediate provision for the special arms and auxiliary services such as tank corps and air service, these having been laid aside temporarily.

Illinois Makes Progress.

Springfield, Ill., July 17.—Illinois has made considerable progress in the organization of national guard units in conformity with plans of the war department, according to Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson. Three regiments of infantry, he stated, are in process of formation, the officers for which have been largely named.

"On the basis of Illinois' representation in congress, this state is entitled to an entire division," General Dickson said. This would mean one sixteenth of all the national guard troops in the United States. It will not be possible to complete organization of the full division at once, General Dickson said, because of the lack of sufficient appropriations.

Eleven "reserve militia" regiments were created by special statute in the war emergency to replace national guard forces mustered into federal service. These units are still existent.

When the ship docked, 62 Y. M. C. A. TELLS REFORMERS TO FORGET TOBACCO WAR

CHICAGO, July 17.—Rev. A. A. Brown of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal church in addressing the Methodist camp meeting at Des Planes, Ill., today urged reformers to forget the war on tobacco and fight for moral cleanliness and better homes.

Dr. Brown has just returned from France where he spent several months as chaplain of the sixth division of the United States army.

"As I studied the doughboy in the trenches, I became convinced that he could be better instructed in purity by the army system than by any methods ever used by the church," said Dr. Brown. "The goal of the church should not be to stamp out tobacco when there is such a cry for guidance in a campaign for social purity. Let us raise funds for better, happier homes rather than for the suppression of a comparatively insignificant fault."

"DRYS" DEFEAT ATTEMPTS TO AMEND BILL

Shut Off Debate Despite Violent Protest of Minority

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Prohibition forces voted down in the house today every attempt to eliminate drastic provisions of the general enforcement bill, and while in full and absolute control shut off debate at the word of their leader despite the violent protest of the minority. When they had raced thru the war time enforcement portion of the three part bill and got into the constitutional prohibition measure proper there were only 68 members on the floor and so much confusion that a speaker could not make himself heard. It was 7 o'clock tonight when the long roll call to obtain a quorum was started, and members then had gone home, after declaring there was no good reason for trying to force thru a bill to take care of a situation that would not arise until January.

Fight Off Every Attack.

Before the house got into a snarl, however, the prohibition faction had fought off every attack on their bill. An amendment to strike out a minimum fine for those convicted of violating the war time act, was fought over and defeated 68 to 57.

This was offered by Representative Reavis, Republican, Nebraska, a prohibition member of the judiciary committee. Chairman Volstead of the judiciary committee and patron of the bill presented an amendment which was adopted without debate and which made the measure a bit more drastic in that it added the word of "manufacture" to the many things a man may not do with liquor in his office or home.

For a brief moment late in the day the minority—described by the prohibitionists as the "wets"—swung into power, only to be thrown out by a demand for tellers, which meant an accurate count on a vote to amend the bill so that a person charged with violating a liquor selling injunction might demand and obtain a trial by jury.

This motion offered by Representative Gard, Democrat, Ohio, and warmly supported by Speaker Clark, had provoked an hour's debate which was bitter at times, when the house put on the lid and started to vote. There was a noisy shout from the ayes, who appeared to have won. Instantly there was a demand for a division and after members had been counted the result was announced —ayes 76, nays 66.

Victory Not Expected

The victory was not expected, even by the wets, and they realized they could not have won except for the large number of absentees on the other side. While the house was marching thru the center aisle to be counted after demand for tellers had been made, clerks calls were sent out for prohibition members, who came piling in in sufficient numbers to beat the jury trial amendment by two votes—78 to 76.

After rounding up a quorum the house took up the constitutional prohibition enforcement bill set down as part two of the measure and defeated 71 to 35 an amendment by Representative Igoe, Missouri, Democrat, eliminating the definition of intoxicants. This was precisely what was done the other day to the war time act, and was in accord with expectations.

Altho debate was limited to five minutes for each member it ran all the way from the old fashioned attack on John Barleycorn to poetry, with a few words of near-profanity thrown in once by former Speaker Clark to put a little punch in a story he related to show the importance of trial by jury in injunction cases. It remained, however, for Representative Goodykoontz, Republican, West Virginia, to enlighten the house as to the extremes to which some members of the judiciary committee wanted to go in reporting out a bill.

Mr. Goodykoontz is a member of the committee and he started out by saying it was composed of three groups, each with a different school of thoughts.

"One school," he said, "wanted to draw the bill so carelessly that if it were enacted into law it would carry no force and effort and would be innocuous. Another school was so extreme that it wanted to bind the whole thing up so as to put every man in manacles so that he could not move in any direction. The bill as brought to us carried provisions to the effect that it was unlawful to manufacture or sell grape juice or to manufacture any of these malt drinks of which there are hundreds sold under different names and so that it would be illegal to manufacture or sell flavoring extracts. And one man, I believe, suggested that we put the preachers under bond for sacramental wine."

Many Bitter Thrusts

The bill as reported, he said, represented the third course and steered between the two extremes. The house was proceeding rather rapidly with consideration of the bill with Chairman Volstead preparing to close the debate when the minority protested. Mean-

Says I. W. W. Do Not Believe In Government

NEW YORK, July 17.—James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, testifying today before the joint legislative committee investigating radical and seditious activities in this state declared that the I. W. W. had organized many thousands of workers thruout the country on a platform which included in its planks one calling for the destruction of the American government.

The most powerful of the radical organizations, Mr. Holland asserted, was the Amalgamated Garment Workers of America with a membership he estimated at 70,000. As an evidence of the wide sweeping plans of the I. W. W. letters were read into the testimony, before Mr. Holland took the stand in which I. W. W. leaders urged European and South American workers to join in a scheme for an "international revolutionary industrial union."

One of the most ambitions projects was the organization of the marine workers of the two Americas and the maritime European countries into one big union.

The most fruitful field found by the radicals in this country, according to Mr. Holland has been the garment industry, the second greatest industry in the United States. Asked what were the principles of the organization formed by the I. W. W. among the garment workers Mr. Holland replied:

"They don't believe in government. They preach that behind closed doors now and some of them preach it out of doors."

The witness was then asked if it ever had been brought to his attention that the Amalgamated Garment Workers favored a soviet form of government.

"It has not only been brought to my attention but it has been rammed down my throat," replied Mr. Holland. "But the majority of the workingmen and working women are Americans first and not soviets, as some would have us believe."

MAY NEED SPECIAL SHIPS TO DEPORT ALIENS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Lack of ship space and the high cost of transportation may necessitate assignment of a special steamer to deport 3,600 undesirable aliens, held in this country, Anthony Caminetti, Commissioner General of immigration, testified today before the house immigration committee.

"State institutions which are temporarily caring for these people are clamoring to be rid of them," Mr. Caminetti said, "but I do not want to send them to Europe individually or in small groups when the cost per man would reach about $800, as compared with $200 or $300 in normal times."

DENOUNCES THE SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT

Would Aid Japan to be 'Sabre Rattler' Says Sherman

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Urging the senate to refuse compliance of the Shantung provision of the peace treaty Senator Sherman, Republican, Illinois declared today that section giving Japan control of Shantung peninsula, "so taints and poisons the professed altruism which the league of nations was heralded as to crown it the superlative treachery in the history of modern times."

Might Try For World Empire

The provision, asserted the speaker, would aid Japan in becoming 'the sabre rattler of the world," and strengthen her for the day when she might try, like Germany, for world empire, in such an eventually he continued, and with British and Japanese interests in the Orient "identical" the United States might well look to the safety of the Philippines.

"Why China should be exploited," he said, "her territory absorbed in the guise of lease hold, her port cities dominated by alien powers, her mining and railway rights seized by Japan does not appear except under the rule of covetous desire coupled with military force.

"It is material to notice under the Japanese constitution the emperor has the supreme command of the army and navy, declares war, makes peace, and concludes treaties. The kaiser could no no more in the days he menaced Europe and the world. It is as plain as the noon day sun that the government is autocratic and that it will add Chinese province upon province, concession upon concession until an Asiatic kaiser will dominate the affairs of Asia and the Pacific ocean.

"In 1897 Germany professing to be exasperated by the murder of two exiled German missionaries by ignorant fanatics in Shantung sent German's warships to the bay, bombarded the ports, landed troops and occupied the territory. In settlement she compelled the Chinese government to sign a 99 year lease with concessions for railway building and mining. A mere lease of property by one government to another does not divert the lessor government of sovereignty over the territory so leased. Japan entered the war for the express purpose of driving the Germans out of the leased territory. The expulsion of Germany gave Japan no sovereign rights there which she has since assumed.

Turns Thoughts to Belgium.

"The harshness of Japanese occupation, the cruelties incited on the helpless inhabitants, the seizure of property and the resulting looting irresistably turn one's thought to the German conduct in Belgium. We denounce one in unmeasured terms. We are asked to approve the other and declare it justified in a holy cause.

"Japan intends, we are told, in a limited time to withdraw from Shantung and return that country to the Chinese. In every instance, in which Japan has pledged herself on the continent of Asia to occupy temporarily she has made occupancy permanent.

"The United States exercises sovereignity in the Philippines. Japan's expansion is seaward as well as landward. Her ambition covers the Pacific ocean as well as the Asiatic mainland. With Germany in perpetual intrigue, it is no far inference that a practical partition resulting from a union of these two powers in Europe and Asia is no impossible event.

"Japan assumes sovereign rights over Chinese territory. Mere refinement of language or specious interpretation will not remove this impending truth. Japan will not surrender this advantage so gained. Article 10 and the portion of the treaty relating to Shantung are twin brothers of a common iniquity. They speak the language of a joint outrage and bear the evidence of deliberate pre-arranged conspiracy.

Takes Up Trade Question.

"Great Britain bore a large part in the war. The life blood of Great Britain is her foreign trade. We are without adequate experience in foreign trade. We are upon the threshold of the experiment. Great Britain is keenly observant of our course. She has been void of sentiment and sometimes of humanity in breaking down and destroying her rivals.

"We have denied Japan the right of immigration for her subjects. It is a wound to their pride. We are vulnerable in the Philippines. Our great friend lives beyond in the people of the Chinese republic. In our day of peril it must be remembered that the interests of Great Britain and Japan in the Orient are identical.

"We can defend ourselves. It will be a heavy price to pay but it will be paid. We may lose the Philippines. Our greatest friend may then be the Chinese people whom today we are asked to humiliate and dismember."

A school of citizenship for women will open at Webster Groves, Mo., soon. Women are preparing to vote intelligently and to study public questions, a thing many men might do profitably.

A movement for the national celebration of the birthday of the Federal constitution is being promoted by representatives of a number of patriotic organizations, including the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Boy Scouts.

The International Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Canada have expelled all members who participated in the recent general strike at Winnebago, the brotherhood considering the strike illegal and in violation of contracts.

On one matter of public improvement there seems to be unanimity, that the filtration plant in connection with the city water system should be finished. No greater boon could be given our citizens that clean, pure, drinkable water.

New Jersey is so wet that politicians of that state, after sizing up public sentiment, are preparing to run for office on a platform declaring against all prohibition, regardless of the Federal amendment affecting the entire nation. Perhaps they expect to count Jersey out of the nation.

The commissioner of internal revenue has issued a warning to the public against dealers in liberty and victory bonds styling themselves "government licensed brokers." The fact that a broker has paid the special tax imposed on all brokers under the revenue act does not mean that the government guarantees his honesty.

If a bunch of men would cease fighting over the mistakes and blunders of the past in city affairs and concentrate their minds on the future, the city of Jacksonville would profit by the change. We'll concede there have been blunders committed that cannot be remedied at the present time. But what of the present and of the future? Let every man try to do his part today.

The part taken by the National Guard in the war is brought out by a recent report issued by the war department, called a "Statistical summary of the War with Germany." The National Guard represented the highest militia development of the different states and was numerically larger at the beginning of the war than the regular army. In giving "the sources of the American army in the great European conflict" 13 per cent were regulars, 10 per cent National Guards and 77 per cent from conscription. Of the 2,086,000 American troops sent to France 25 per cent were connected with the National Guard. Our own company of the Illinois Natianal Guard left this city in April, 1916, and most of them were on the fighting lines. To have been a member of our own company, to have served as they did, is not only a matter of individual pride, but a matter of which every citizen can be proud.

The statement of Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National committee, in regard to the league of nations, is a very clear one and what he says is in close accord with the convictions of a majority of Republican senators as well as of the party generally. He says:

The situation respecting the league covenant is simply this: There must be effective reservations. These reservations must safeguard the sovereignty of the United States in every particular; must guarantee the Monroe Doctrine beyond the shadow of a doubt; must either eliminate article 10 entirely or so modify it that our own Congress shall be morally as well as legally free after a specified period to decide when and where and to what extent our soldiers shall be employed; must retain our full control of immigration, tariff and all other purely domestic policies, and must provide full right to withdraw from the league at any time without hindrance or conditions of any kind, upon giving suitable notice. It is up to the administration to decide whether it will or will not accept these essential guarantees of American independence, which would unquestionably be promptly accepted by the other nations.

ILLINOIS REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S COMMITTEE

A campaign of education to acquaint women voters with party principles will be launched this fall by Republican women. This was determined upon at the first meeting of the Illinois Republican Women's Executive Committee held in Chicago on July 15.

District chairmen chosen by the men in their communities held an initial conference with Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, state chairman, and Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the Republican Women's National Committee.

For the benefit of the newly appointed workers Mrs. McCormick presented the history of the G. O. P. and made clear difficulties which confronted the Women's National Committee before a co-operative plan with the men's Committee was agreed upon. This "with" according to her statement, marks the difference between the Democratic and Republican parties.

Imperative "dos" and "don'ts" for a harmony program as defined by Mrs. McCormick included:

"Be letter perfect in political technicalities and details."

"Study the methods adopted by men leaders and ally your workers as closely as possible with them."

"Watch all new women's organizations for political developments."

Equally important mistakes to avoid included:

"Don't lose your temper."

"Never let men hold a meeting without a woman representative present. This is a working agreement between men and women of the National Committee."

"The Committee, working as a body, is at all times the vehicle for the Republican nominee chosen at the primaries, regardless of personal choices," was Mrs. McCormick's closing point.

In outlining organization plans Mrs. Dobyns stated that women were entering politics from now on from purely patriotic motives. "The constructive and educational program is a prime need, so that all women may become entirely familiar with party principles, aside from those of their own party. There is as great need for consecration to the political work that lies ahead as there was for undivided support of our country during the war."

Following the luncheon the women held an experience meeting and discussed the problems portending in their communities. It was announced that active work in Cook county will be held in abeyance until the bill for re-districting Chicago comes under consideration in November.

Pertinent reasons for supporting the Republican party were presented by Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge:

R—eciprocity
E—conomy
P—rotective Tariff
U—niversal Military Training
B—etter banking laws
L—oyalty
I—ntegrity
C—onstruction
A—dequate Compensation
N—ation-wide Prosperity.

TOO HIGH PRICES FOR TOO MUCH BEEF.

The meat problem is giving anxiety to everybody. The consumer is troubled by the high retail price. The stock raiser is troubled by his inability to sell his cattle. Ordinarily he could afford to hold his live stock for a while, feeding and fattening it, but grain prices are now so inordinately high that if he doesn't get rid of his cattle they will, so to speak, eat him up. The Department of Agriculture is troubled because it knows that if there isn't a profit for the stock raiser in his cattle he not only will sell them off on any terms to stop his heavy feed bills, but will quit raising any cattle at all. Then the country will be without beef. The Investment News says:

"It is indeed an extraordinary situation when for the first time in years there is an abundance of beef on the hoof and in the packing houses—an actual oversupply—but such high retail prices that the burdened public will not eat meat.

"The cattle raisers, the packers and the Department of Agriculture want to stimulate the consumption of beef. They want to teach the American people that with so large a supply in the country they no longer need to save beef for our own soldiers or for the hungry peoples of Europe. But the trouble is—and it is a mighty big trouble that the American people aren't cutting down their consumption of meat because they think it is needed abroad. They aren't cutting it down because they think there is a shortage in the west or anywhere else. They are cutting down their consumption because they are not willing to eat it at the prices demanded for it.

"It is true that when American consumers quit one article of consumption because of its price they usually turn to another article of consumption with an increased demand which also drives its price up. When bread got dear the consumers made a rush for potatoes and made potatoes very dear. Then they made a rush for rice and made rice very dear. In the same way they turned from beef to fish and made ordinary codfish dearer than the choicest cuts of beef had been once upon a time.

"Nevertheless, the fact remains that the American people, by their self-sacrifice during the war have learned that they can do with a great deal less meat eating than they ever before dreamed was possible. They are not going back to their former degree of meat eating unless meat can be made cheap enough to appeal to them. Just as they turned from sirloin steak to codfish steak they may turn back from codfish steak to sirloin steak when it becomes a better bargain or when it becomes nearly a good enough bargain, the superiority of beefsteak to codfish steak considered, to tempt them. Otherwise they will not.

"Nor will it suffice to say that the retail butcher can easily untangle the economic knot. Maybe he could if his other costs went down in the packing house and the price of steers went down on the range. But his other costs don't go down. They don't even stand still. He goes on paying more, not less, for his labor. He goes on paying more, not less, for his rent. He goes on paying more, not less, for the feed of his horses used in his delivery service. He goes on paying more, not less, for his fuel, for his light, for his taxes, for his insurance—for every single thing necessary to the conduct of his general business and the selling of his specific beef.

"There was a time, with all other costs normal, when the prices which the retail butcher paid for his beef at wholesale largely determined, or at least could determine, his charges to consumers. This isn't so any longer. All his charges are high, so abnormally high, that his beef can go down, and down, and down, and yet this decline be more than offset by the rise in his other costs.

"What is true of the butcher is true of the grocer and the candlestick maker. What is true of them is true of every other trader compelled to deal—if he stays in business—on the basis of pennies in cost of material, but dollars in cost of handling it."

THE SALESMAN

If a salesman is lukewarm when he boosts the goods he sells, you will never see his form wearing handsome silver bells. Now and then a languid guy comes to sell me books or trees, or a strip of azure sky, or a swarm of bumble bees. But his coming is in vain, for his manners don't convince; and I tell him, speaking plain, he's a lemon or a quince. Then there comes a sprightly skate who is brimming o'er with zeal; he will burble and orate and put up a noble spiel. This enthusiastic gink, this inspired and gaudy jay, ere he's finished, makes me think that his goods are all O. K. He is talking through his fez, dealing bunk, I later guess, but believes in what he says—that's the secret of success. So I buy his duplex chairs, or a large revovling churn, or a span of polar bears, or a lamp that will not burn. If a salesman cannot talk in a fine impassioned vein of his tall self winding clock, or his patent logging chain, if he cannot make us think that his wares are all sky high, he had better take a drink of formaldehye and die. Earnestness a man must have if as a salesman he would win, whether he is peddling salve or an auto built of tin.

The threshing machine owned by a company of farmers residing in the Liberty church neighborhood near Markham was damaged somewhat Wednesday evening when it overturned. The machine was being turned into the wheat field of Scott Holmes when one of the rear wheels dropped down into a ditch at the side of the road. On account of the high grass the ditch was unnoticed by the driver. The heavy machine toppled over bending the cylinder shaft, and breaking the weigher and a pulley.

Dear Bill:

The city "dads" have handed out the figures and, accordin to same, we're in the hole for a bunch of money, which leads up to a question—what is money?

A dollar bill is paper, hard money is metal, a check signed by most anybody but me would be accepted as money, the bankers make money out of money by juggling it; some folks earn money by the sweat of their brow which is an out of date method; some folks say it is your best friend; the good book says it is the root of all evil; at school they teach the kids that it is a medium of exchange, and, say bill, the medium that exchanges mine must be a spirit medium the way it disapears. But, when you get down to brass tacks, here is the best definition I ever heard:

"Money is an article which may be used as a universal passport to every where, except heaven, and as a universal provider of everything except happiness."

Yours truly,
JACK.

WILDE GETS DECISION IN BOUT WITH MOORE

LONDON, July 17.—Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion defeated Pal Moore of Memphis, Tenn. in a twenty round bout at the Olympia tonight.

The referee gave the decision to Wilde on points.

Twenty thousand persons witnessed the fight. Moore administered much punishment on his antagonist in the early stages of the bout, but at the end of the twelfth round Wilde led slightly on points. In the fourteenth round Moore sent a jab to Wilde's mouth which made the blood spurt. It was evident in the last rounds that Moore was trying for a knockout, but Wilde's ring craft and cleverness prevented the American from carrying out his plan.

On the invitation of the Prince of Wales, General John J. Pershing occupied the royal box with the prince and his brother, Prince Albert. The party was given an ovation. General Pershing frequently waved his hands or bowed his acknowledgment to the plaudits of the crowd.

DRYS DEFEAT ATTEMPT TO AMEND BILL

while amendments were being offered and voted down without ceremony, while those presented by the chairman went down in rapid succession. There were many bitter thrusts particularly after Representative Gallagher, Democrat of Illinois, said the bill was going to put more men out of politics than any other law ever passed in this country.

"All this talk of not being able to enforce prohibition laws is tommyrot, absolutely," Mr. Clark said, in urging the house to adopt the trial by jury amendment. Pointing to the drastic provisions of the measure, the former speaker said:

"The idea that a man should not have a particle of whiskey or anything of that kind which he may make in his own house will prove to be a hindrance to the enforcement of this law. I do not want any whiskey in my house. I have not got any either. I cannot drink it without the risk of getting drunk, so I quit it. I do not keep it around. I never did keep it around except inside me."

Quit in Midst of Confusion.

When the house quit work at ten o'clock tonight it was in the midst of the utmost confusion over a series of amendments offered by Chairman Volstead referring to flavoring extracts and it was agreed to have them printed in the record so that the members could see what it was all about.

Without the debate the prohibitionists voted down a set of amendments offered by Representaitve Gard that would have made the bill more drastic.

In the section prohibiting among other things the manufacture and sale and barter of liquors, Mr. Gard wanted to strike out, in three separate amendments, the words 'give away," "furnish" and "receive."

The first was defeated 76 to 32 and the others in about that order. Then Mr. Gard put the house on record by moving to amend in the same section by adding the word "possess" the words "for sale." It was defeated 72 to 25.

An amendment by Representative Wilson, Democrat, Pennsylvania to permit a citizen to make wine and cider for his own use was defeated 72 to 50.

Mr. Volstead's flavoring extract amendment was adopted 74 to 49 and when he sent forward a handful of others everybody agreed that it was a good time to quit for the night.

als from four Europeon publications to support his claim that the people of Europe generally were opposed to the league adding that "the purveyors of news do not carry this information."

During the day it developed that some administration senators were urging steps to ascertain whether certain reservations proposed by the opposition might be acceptable to the other governments signatory to the treaty. It was suggested that much discussion might be saved in the senate should it develope that these reservations considered objectionable by the administration only because they might necessitate reopening negotiations really would be readily accepted abroad. In this class were said to be the proposed reservations stipulating beyond doubt that the Monroe Doctrine was to remain a national policy; that there could be no declaration of war under article ten without a declaration by congress and that such questions as immigration and the tariff were to be left solely for domestic determination.

Regards Treaty as Contract.

The position taken by President Wilson in his talk today was understood to be that the United States could not undertake to decide the force of any reservation adopted no matter how general might be the agreement here that it did not vitiate the covenant. It was said the president regarded the treaty in the light of a contract and that the effect of any change or reservation whatever must have the acquisence of the other parties and could not be interpreted by the party inserting it.

Besides the Shantung settlement, Mr. Wilson was understood to have discussed article ten the new treaty with France and many minor questions brought up by hisc callers. He was said to have been especially insistent in his position that article ten was essential to the league and to have expressed an earnest desire that the French treaty be ratified.

Private conversations which he had with Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau regarding troublesome points in the negotiations were understood to have been repeated by the president for the information of the senators. It was said in fact that most of his time during the conferences such of which lasted nearly an hour was spent in relating what took place around the peace table rather than in presenting arguments on the disputed sections.

The foreign relations committee continued its reading of the treaty today but it was said no discussion developed nor was action taken on any feature of the treaty fight.

CITIZENS EXPRESS VIEWS ON CITY'S FINANCIAL PROBLEMS

William N. Hairgrove

I am glad to read the article by Bernard Gause in the Journal of this morning. It seems to me that he is about the only person who has spoken on the question of the bond issue who has studied the condition and the needs of the city. Many others have given popular impressions, not having studied well the affairs of the city of Jacksonville. From what I gathered their impressions are those popular and unthinking impressions easy to be had; the kind easy to produce, not requiring any effort or study; and also their views of having a bond issue are not uncommon to people—bond issues seem to be very popular just now, and I gather the impression that many people would rather give their note than to pay their debts. I am very much reminded, as I read the interviews, of the man whom I once knew who came out of a bank and said he had paid them up, that he owed them several thousand dollars and that he had settled. A friend of his asked him where he got the money to settle the amount, knowing he was not in very good financial condition, and he replied he gave his note. A great many people are anxious to "pay up" by giving their note, especially in public affairs—they like to "pass the buck" and let the next man pay it. We have an example of that in the court house debt—it is still unpaid in part although the building was completed fifty years ago. We have paid out a million dollars on the two hundred and fifty thousand dollar building and still owe some on it. Mr. Gause is in favor of paying our debts and others are simply in favor of deferring the payment so that the burden will be given to some one else.

As I look at the condition of the city of Jacksonville, its government now amounts to a receivership. When the commission form of government administration passed the city over to the present administration, it, in fact, passed over a defunct corporation, one that if a commercial corporation would go into liquidation, and have a receiver appointed. And the first thing, in my judgment, for the receiver to do would be to look into the indebtedness of the same. If the indebtedness is lawful he would not want it repudiated; a city cannot repudiate its debts. It is impossible and ridiculous to talk of repudiation; there is no such word as repudiation by a city in Illinois, if the city is lawfully indebted, so the first thing the receiver ought to do is to find out if the indebtedness is lawful, and if it is not lawful, it should not be paid. I do not believe even the anticipation warrants now outstanding were lawfully issued. I think the last city administration absolutely ignored the law in contracting debts and in issuing anticipation warrants and other evidence of indebtedness. If the indebtedness is lawful, I believe arrangements should be made to pay the debts as speedily as practical. I also have serious doubts if a bond issue could be lawfully had for the present outstanding of "floating indebtedness" of the city of Jacksonville, and it would be absurd to bond a city, if we can settle without issuing more bonds. If the city can lawfully issue bonds, then especially bonds should be issued for enough so that the city might take the city water plant out of "hock," as the present arrangement, as I understand it, for the expense of building of the reservoir and filtering plant amounts to pawning the city's entire water plant to private parties for money at six per cent, which is an evasion of the law; the statute only allows the city to pay five per cent on any city indebtedness.

I believe in immediate taxation and in the prompt payment of the city's debts, and when I say city's debts, I mean lawful indebtedness.

REV. H. S. ALKIRE IS ON MEXICAN BORDER

Former Brooklyn Church Pastor Writes Interesting Letter from Camp Terlingua, Texas—Had Active Part in Various Wartime Drives.

Rev. Hy S. Alkire, who was several years since a resident of this city, serving as pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church, has just written the Journal as appears below. Rev. Mr. Alkire writes in an interesting way of life along the Mexican border, as he is now stationed at Camp Terlingua, Texas. He says: "I'm cutting in heavy on my two years of war work and do not plan to quit until the job's finished."

The letter which follows will be of interest to many people here:

Camp Terlingua Texas.
July 12, 1919.

The Journal,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Recently a copy of your paper reached me, containing a write-up some finely imaginative publicity man had given me; and when I read it I was reminded of the fellow who dreamed that having died he came out of his grave to see what they had put on his tombstone. After reading all the good things said thereon, he soloquized "I guess I've been in the wrong grave." Well, after all, I can't go back upon what I've often said about post-humus eulogies. While better late said that never said,—yet.

"I would rather give this very day;
To a passing friend a cheap boquet;
Than a bushel of roses, white and red;
To pile on his coffin when he's dead."

I'm cutting in heavy on my two years of war work, and do not plan to quit until the job's finished. Was packed twice to sail overseas then wired to go out to field duty. The War Work Council used me in every drive save the first Liberty Loan, and even then I made two speeches in an independent way for that. Liberty Loans, War and Thrift Stamps, Red Cross, United War Work, Welfare Work, and as a member of the Government Speakers' Bureau. For eight months I spoke in the theaters, movies, clubs, halls, high schools, etc., on war themes.

While I was disapointed in not getting overseas I felt that if the authorities thought that I could do greater good gathering in the sheckels to keep the war going, well and good. Then too, two members of my family were "Over There," another was in training, while I was giving my whole time and energy to the work and making it possible for freemen to enjoy freedom. My daughter, Fay's husband, being on the reserve list when the war started, did not wait for orders, but reported at Quantico, Va., and early in October, 1917, went over with the marines and is still at Coblenz, a first lieutenant in the Q. M.

Early in 1918, my son, Donald, slipped away, enlisted at Houston, was sent to Camp Travis, and, inless than three weeks was on the high seas. With the ambulance squad of the M. C. He was no' sixteen years of age, but drove his ambulance thru that awful March drive of the Huns, and ended his service at Chateau Thierry.

Innis was on the exempted list, but rushed out to Love Field at Dallas and lined up for his share. That only amounted to being the Major's private swivel chair secretary, but it was far from his liking. Just as the armistice came, I had machinery going to land him in the officers training school.

So the four men in my home did their bit. And when Camp Logan lost the battalion of the 43rd infantry this May, I thought it was back to "Civies' for me. But less than ten days after Logan ceased I had wires to assume service down here on the Border. So I've been here two months, gazing into space, looking for rattlers, centipedes, scorpions, spicks, etc.

Some fellow ventured to tell me that this was "God's Country." I agreed with him, as I have found no one else who would claim it! I heartily agree with Irvin Cobb who ventured to remark; "here are more flowers and less fragrance; more birds and less song; more streams and less water; more cattle and less beef; more people and less human, down on this Mexican border than anywhere else on God's green earth."

But things are interesting down here now. Already we have had the real taste of war. It was thrilling to see the perfect barrage we laid down; the snappiness of our dough-boys; and the splendid dash of our cavalry, in that Juarez battle. And it is heroic to see the fine morale and tremendous loyalty of our men down here in this rough and wild waste. France has nothing on this in any ways save stretch of miles. I could give you many pages of thrilling experiences thru which we pass almost daily; and sometime I may. Just now "Mum's" the word. Our orders are strict, and you may expect to hear of this Mexican situation handled firmly and promptly. Uncle Sam has stood all he intends to, and when he settles anything he settles it right.

At Camp Logan I met many Illinois boys some from Jacksonville. They made good everywhere, and those that did not get to go over were of the same type as those that did. Somebody had to hold down the serpent's tail here while the others killed his head over there.

Wishing you every success, and extending my kindest good will to all the old friends back there, and assuring you that I will do my best to uphold the fine record of Morgan county in this new war, I remain, Most sincerely Yours,

HY S. ALKIRE.

For Every Business and Profession

Time- and Money-saving Card Record Systems—for Your work

THE brilliant success of many a business is due, not so much to the ingenuity of the owners, as to the establishment of an aim and sticking to it. Many a success-building policy has been neglected and finally abandoned simply for the lack of time and system. Here is where records are important—especially card records.

"Y and E" card records mean, for instance: an accurate and easily kept ledger; the best method of keeping in touch with customers; a perpetual inventory of stock on hand; in fact for every business and professional man an up-to-date and instantly findable record of facts he should know about his work; an aid in doing the things that success demands—promptly.

Without charge, we will gladly suggest the newest card systems—if necessary, design special forms—to fit your work.

COMMENDS SERVICE OF DR. F. P. NORBURY

Secretary of National Committee For Mental Hygiene Accepts Resignation of Dr. Norbury as Acting Medical Director With Expression of Appreciation of Services Rendered.

The many friends of Dr. F. P. Norbury will be interested in reading the following letter, written by Clifford W. Beers, secretary of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, commending the service which Dr. Norbury rendered thru his direction of the war work of the committee. The Springfield Journal of Thursday stated that the letter had just been received by Dr. Norbury, accepting his resignation as acting medical director of that committee. The letter reads as follows:

"It is my pleasurable duty as secretary to transmit to you the following resolution, which was incorporated in the minutes of the executive committee, held on March 21, 1919. Though adopted at the meeting held on May 9, it was inserted in the minutes mentioned so it might appear on a date prior to your return home.

"Voted, that the resignation of Doctor Norbury be accepted with deep appreciation of his faithful and efficient work while serving for nine months as acting medical director of the national committee for mental hygiene, and serving, too, at great inconvenience and personal sacrifice to himself; and be it further

"Voted, that it is the sense of this meeting that Doctor Norbury has not only rendered distinguished service to the national committee, but that he has rendered an invaluable service to the public and to the fighting forces of the nation through his able direction of the war work of the national committee for mental hygiene.

"Voted, that the secretary be instructed to send to Doctor Norbury a copy of these votes as a token of the high esteem and friendly regard in which he is held by all who have had the privilege of working with him in the war emergency.

(Signed) "Clifford W. Beers,
"Secretary."

From County Agents Office

Visits Two Elevators.

The county agent is making a special effort to call at all of the elevators in Morgan county during the threshing season and urging the farmers and elevator men to lay in a stock of good seed wheat free from smut and scab. The present indications are that good seed wheat will be decidedly scarce this fall and we are hoping for the co-operation of the farmers, and elevator managers in holding some of the good wheat in this county.

Control of Diseases of Swine

At the present time we are trying to control the diseases of livestock. This consists of putting up posters urging people to steer clear of "Cure-Alls" and to call competent veterinarians when the ordinary first aid remedy will not avail. This office is also supplying posters of the Common Diseases of Swine described and the first aid remedies for it. We are urging swine owners to tack this up in a convenient place in the hog house where it can be handy for reference.

State Fair.

Last year we did not have very many exhibits from this county in the Illinois State Fair. More premium lists have been received in this office. We are trying to place these in the hands of possible exhibitors of livestock so that Morgan county can once more be on the map when it comes to winning exhibits at fairs.

Alfalfa.

The second crop of alfalfa is not as heavy as the first crop. Our farmers are cutting the second crop without waiting for the appearance of new shoots which are ordinarily the indications that it is time to cut. Our experienced alfalfa growers are planning to use either the alfalfa cultivator spring tooth harrow or the spike tooth harrow on the fields immediately after cutting.

SOME CHANGES MADE IN PARKING SYSTEM

Changes Were Adopted at Meeting Held in Council Chamber Thursday Evening—Street Cars Will run to Left on North and South Main Street Lines.

A number of changes in the parking system on the public square were made at a meeting held in the council chamber in the city hall Thursday evening.

The meeting was held by the committee from the Morgan County Good Roads Association and the committee from the Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the city authorities.

One thing brought out at the meeting was that the present system of operating the street cars on the North and South Main sareet car lines interferred with the carrying out of the traffic plan as worked out in a recent meeting.

Street Cars Will Run to Left

These cars have been running around the square to the right and it was found that they were operating directly against the automobile and vehicle traffic. Arrangements were made with E. L. Gray, general manager of the Railway & Light company to have the cars run to the left. This makes the cars run in the same direction as the traffic and automobiles can follow the cars around the square.

It was also found that some confusion was resulting in the manner of parking cars abutting on Central park. On the north side of the park the cars will back in on the west half of the park and on the east half they will head in.

On the east side of the park on the north half the cars will back in and on the south half they will head in. On the west side of the park on the south half the cars will back in and on the north half they will head in. It was decided to have arrow heads painted in these squares to show the manner in which the owner must park the car.

Another matter taken up was in regard to the spaces that have been fixed at each corner of the square. It was found that part of this space must be left open in order for the fire department to get thru and also for other traffic. Two of these spaces will be eliminated thus leaving an opening off of the square on each corner. With this elimination there will be still parking space for 218 cars.

Safety Zone at Intersections

There was some discussion of the question of parking cars too close to the intersection of streets leading into the public square. It was decided to have a safety zone painted on these streets. This line will be 20 feet back from the property line. This will not only make for safety for drivers and pedestrians but will be of great aid to the fire department in case it has a call on the square. Space must be bept clear in front of fire hydrants and watering troughs. In the case of fire hydrants enough space must be reserved to enable the department to reach the hydrant without interference. It is probable that this space will be marked off and made definite in the near future.

Right of Way at Crossings

Other matters pertaining to traffic were discussed. it was the general opinion that some steps should be taken in the matter of the right of way on intersecting streets. It was thought that this is covered in the state laws and it will be investigated and some plan recommended.

Ald. Cain of the police committee said that warning should be given to automobile drivers about running with the cutout open and with undimmed lights. The latter is a state law and it was the sense of the meeting that it should be rigidly enforced.

Attention also was called to the habit of some drivers of running on the rim on asphalt and wood block pavements. This results in damage to pavements and should be stopped. Springfield has a drastic ordinance on this and it is enforced to the letter. If there is no clause in the present traffic ordinance covering this it is probable that one will be passed at an early meeting of the city council.

Chief Kiloran said that if possible there should be traffic officers at the square and East and West State and South Main streets, especially on Saturday afternoon. A number of those present suggested that business men might be commissioned as special policemen who would serve gratis on such occasions. This plan is being carried out in Omaha and other cities and it seemed to be the opinion that it would prove successful here if the proper steps were taken.

WOULD BE SUICIDE LIFTS WOMAN'S PURSE

Yazzie Curtis, Colored Woman Who Tried to Suicide Sunday, Steals Purse of Mrs. Hierman of Bluffs — Purse Recovered and Woman Released.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Hierman, wife of a railroad man, residing at Bluffs, went into the lavatory at the Wabash passenger station and laid her purse down and forgot it.

When she missed it she returned to the lavatory and found it had disappeared. She notified the police and Chief Kiloran and Patrolman McGinnis went to the station and Mrs. Hierman pointed out a colored woman who had entered the lavatory as she came out.

The woman proved to be Yazzie Curtis colored, who attempted to suicide Sunday after having a quarrel with her husband. Both were members of the carnival company which played here last week.

When taken into custody the woman denied all knowledge of the purse and the officers started to the station with her. On the way Patrolman McGinnis found she had a small purse in the bosom of her dress. This was taken back to the Wabash station and identified by Mrs. Hierman. It had been inside a large purse and investigation of the lavatory revealed the purse in the toilet. An attempt had been made to flush it into the sewer. It was recovered and contained the railroad pass of Mrs. Hierman. The small purse contained about $7 in money which was found to be intact.

As Mrs. Hierman did not care to prosecute the woman and she was with her husband waiting to take the train for Pittsfield where the company is showing this week, she was released and allowed to go her way.

WORK PROGRESSING ON ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

Plastering is now in progress at Oak Lawn Retreat, which when remodeled will be the County Anti-Tuberculosis hospital. The contractor, Joseph DeGoveia, now has reason to believe that the work can proceed in an uninterrupted way. Up to this time it has been impossible to get the inside mill work done and this has necessarily meant a delay. The mill which has the contract to furnish this work has been surfeited with orders and this accounts for the long and tedious delay in having the order filled.

FACTS ABOUT DEATH OF VAUGHN WILLITTS

Comrade Writes to Relatives of Morgan County Hero, Giving Details About His Death.

On the list of Morgan county's fallen heroes is the name of Vaughn Willitts, whose home was at Alexander. This young soldier was killed in action last October, and relatives have just received a letter from Edward Swanson of 903 N. Central Avenue, Chicago, telling some of the circumstances surrounding the young man's death. The two young men were comrades from the time they left Camp Grant until the fatal morning of October 3, when the explosion of a shell brought death to the Morgan county man. The two were together thru the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, and sharing so many hardships, had come to have a deep regard for each other. The letter referred to above reads as follows:

Chicago, Ill., July 10, 1919.
Mr. John Willitts,
Alexander, Ill.,
Dear Sir:

Having come with Vaughn from Camp Grant to Camp Green, N. Carolina, and having been put together in the same tent and section, we became fast friends. So I can say a few things of him who was my last pal and buddy all the way up to that fatal October morning. Vaughn was in the first gun crew and I was in the second.

After we had slept together and shared one anothers troubles on the "Vesle," St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne fronts, it came to pass that on the morning of Oct. 3, 2:30 oclock, I was awakened by the sound of an explosion. Vaughn was on duty at the time and his gun crew were in the act of firing. (our position was at the Sep Sarges woods.) I was asleep some twenty feet away in one of our tents and I got up to see what the trouble could be.

I could see nothing for a few seconds, as it was pitch black. Then I heard cries for "first aid." I knew for a fact then that a shell had struck near our piece, as one could smell the powder. Going to where the trouble was, the first thing I saw was Vaughn lying on his back stretched out. I knelt over him but found he had been killed outright. A piece of the shell had gone thru his jugular vein. I next saw the gunner. He had been killed outright and so was the number one man, while a fellow by the name of Davis was badly wounded. I got up enough courage to help carry the boys a short distance away to a shack, where they lay until about 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

The chaplain came then and we put them side by side in what was known as the "divisional cemetery," a short distance ahead of our position. We did the best we could for them and we put a cross by each one's grave. I thought then of something that I could take back with me to give to my comrades relatives, but the thought came too late, so the only thing I saw that could be a sort of remembrance was a piece of the shell which had hit near our piece, only 15 feet away. I am sending this in this letter.

As for Vaughn, I want to say I have never met a better, cleaner out pal in my life. Always kind, pleasant and cheerful, never with any bad habits, he was well liked by all the men. Vaughn and I both read the Bible when we had the chance. I was with him in one instance at Andelot, France where he bought a silk apron and cap for one of his friends. I have nothing but the highest and best of affection for the comrade that was mine "over there."

Respectfully,
Edwin C. Swanson.

THE WAY THEY DO IT IN OMAHA

Business Men Offer Services as Special Traffic Officers—Will Assist Regular Force.

With all of the problems confronting the city administration in control of traffic the example of the city of Omaha, Neb., may well be followed.

In that city thirty five members of the Omaha Auto club who also are prominent business men have offered their services to the Chief of Police to assist the regular traffic officer and motorcycle policemen in the regulation of automobile traffic.

As is well known, Jacksonville is operating with a small police force. Chief of Police Kiloran at the meeting of the city authorities with the committee from the Good Roads and Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening called the attention of the need of traffic policemen on Saturday afternoons.

Some of the business men suggested that it might be possible to get business men who would be willing to assist in this work. Ald Cain chairman of the police committee then brought forth the appended article from the National Police Journal showing the way it is done in Omaha. It seemed to be the concensus of opinion that such a plan could be worked out here. The article follows:

"Omaha is going to have a new battery of traffic officers. Some of them are young men, while others are old enough to be grandfathers. However, regardless of age, they are going to serve as traffic officers. Tere are 35 of them. They are all business men and they have pledged their services to the city without pay, reward, or the hope of emoluments. These men are members of the Omaha Auto Club.

"The 35 men have offered their services to Chief Eberstein, and 'they are willing to act as special traffic officers and assist the regular force of motorcycle officers in enforcing all provisions of the new traffic ordinance.'

"'This voluntary service from the 35 members of the Auto Club will go a long way toward curbing traffic violations' said Secretary Smyth, of the Omaha Auto Club.

"'These men are sterling business men, with a strong feeling for our safety-first campaign. My acquaintance with most of them warrants the assertion that there will be some fur flying in Omaha, and careful motorists will be glad to see a clean-up.'"

—Then, there's another charmingly simple model that we think anyone could wear becomingly. It has a large flat collar trimmed with imported St. Gall Venise lace, while the front is ornamented with fine tucks and dainty embroidery. Both models are of Voile of splendid quality.

—Price at just $2.50, the same low uniform price at which the Welworth is sold here and everywhere.

Welworth Blouses are made and sold under the efficient and economy effecting Wirthmor plan, and they therefore always represent the very highest possible value standard at the price.

"FORDSON"

In Plowing and Threshing Tests Under Extraordinary Conditions

More Than Makes Good

"Fordson" Tractor Makes Exceedingly Satisfactory Record — Under Severe Natural Conditions Develops Wonderful Power — Far Exceeds All Claims Made—J. L. (Jess) Henry, Widely Known Farmer and Commission Man, Relates Recent Experience.

"Fordson Plows Sod Not Turned in Twenty-seven Years, Where Five Horses on 14-in. Sulky Plows were Failing—"Fordson" Easily Drags Two 14-in. Plows, Going Down Full Seven Inches — Soil Turned Smooth and Flat—Held Up Well—When Ready to Cut Wheat was Using Four Mules—Grain Down and Badly Tangled—Animals Got So Heated and Worn Had to Quit—Decided to Buy "Fordson"—Cut Twenty Acres in 8 Hours 25 Minutes—Decided Then to Buy Threshing Outfit—Picture Here Shows Thresher Operating from "Fordson" Power—Now Convinced "Fordson" Will do All That's Claimed for It—Low First Cost is a Great Factor.

A Strong Testimonial from J. L. Henry

First, let me say that I am not financially interested in "Fordson" Tractors nor threshing machines. I have purchased both from Earl W. Sorrells, a dealer in Woodson, and he asked permission to take and publish a photograph, also that I give my opinion of same. I freely consented to do so, thinking thereby to possibly benefit my fellow-farmer. I first became interested after a trip to a neighbor's field last spring, to see a demonstration of plowing sod that had not been plowed for 27 years. This man had put 5 horses on a 14-in. sulky plow and was doing the worst job I ever saw. He decided to let Mr. Sorrells bring a "Fordson" tractor into the field, having two 14-in. plows, and put it down full 7 inches. It moved right along, the plows turning the soil over as straight and smooth and flat as it possibly could have been done. I certainly was surprised at its power. I watched it closely all spring, and it held up well.

When wheat was ready to cut I started with four good mules. The grain was down and badly entangled, and it pulled awfully hard. The teams would get so warm I had to stop often to let them rest. I decided that I could not make much headway and feared I would kill my mules. I realized also that delay might mean a loss, as the wheat was full ripe.

So I determined to buy a tractor. I went to Woodson, bought a "Fordson," took it out and hooked it to the binder, turned the mules into the pasture, (which was much against my principles, as I was a staunch believer in a good mule), and cut my grain with ease.

The second day we cut 20 acres in 8 hours and 25 minutes, not excluding the time spent for oiling and putting in twine.

As there is much wheat in our community, and a scarcity of machines, I decided it would be profitable to buy a little "22-36" threshing machine to finish the job. The illustration here shows it working. I am using it with the tractor and they both work fine.

Many of my farmer neighbors have visited the field to see it work, and they all seem convinced of the success and merits of the outfit.

Please do not misunderstand me, by thinking I am going to discard the mules, for while there are many things a tractor will do, teams must be used for other things. Good work mules were never higher in price than they are now, but owing to the fact that we are advancing so rapidly, and labor being so scarce, that is, the right kind of labor, we are obliged to have more power and more machinery to get by.

I am convinced that the "Fordson" will do the work, and its first cost is about one-half of any other tractor, having the same power.

I would prefer having two new "Fordsons" as I need them, to having one that cost twice as much.

(Signed) J. L. HENRY.

A Few Facts About the Great "Fordson" Tractor

The "Fordson" Tractor is the result of extensive trials and experiments. Every detail has been thoroughly tried out under actual farming conditions. Experience has pointed to the small light tractor as being the one machine which will fill all varying conditions satisfactorily.

In developing the "Fordson" Tractor, the aim has been to produce an small tractor which will be low in first cost, reliable, and above all—efficient. Being small, light and economical, the "Fordson" Tractor is adapted for use on small farms, as well as on the largeest. It will pull all farm implements and do the work generally done by horses on the farm. In addition, by its belt pulley the tractor will drive farm machinery such as a thresher, ensilage cutter, sawmill, etc., making the "Fordson" a truly universal tractor. The simplicity of its operation and construction will at once appeal to the farmer.

Special devices were perfected to keep out dust and dirt. All moving parts are enclosed and thoroughly lubricated. The number of lubricating points requiring attention are very few and easily gotten at. The tractor is designed as a two-plow machine and will pull two 14-in. plows in the stiffest soil. It will maintain a drawbar pull of 1800 pounds at plowing speed. In low gear a drawbar pull of 2500 pounds is obtained.

The fuel consumption varies with conditions; two and one-half gallons of kerosene per acre being a fair average. The amount of ground plowed also depends on conditions; eight acres in ten hours would strike an average.

When used at stationary work and running at full power, at 1000 R. P. M., the fuel consumption does not exceed two and three-fourths gallons per hour. The total weight of tractor is 2700 pounds, with water and fuel tanks filled. Over-all length is 102 inches, height 55 inches and width 62 inches.

The engine develops twenty-two horsepower when running at 1000 revolutions per minute, and using kerosene.

PHENOMENAL GROWTH GIRL SCOUT MOVEMENT

Scope is Nationwide—Work of Troops Given in Report by Mrs. Juliette Low.

Upward of 50,000 girls between the ages of 10 and 18 are enrolled as Girl Scouts, according to a report furnished by Juliette Low, and published by the United States Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior. Registrations have been made at the rate of about 150 per day since January 1, 1919.

The work of the Girl Scouts is described as follows in the report of Mrs. Low:

"The scope of Girl Scout work is national; troops are organized in every state except Utah, and they are active in the Territory of Hawaii. Girl Scout troops are affiliated with the work of schools, churches, settlement houses, civic councils, community welfare organizations, women's clubs, etc., but the Girl Scouts' organization are non-sectarian and non-political. A girl may belong to other organizations at the same time.

"The average home is evolved by the parents for their own comfort and convenience. The schoolroom atmosphere and environment are created by the personality of the teacher. The adolescent girl longs for a place of her very own, where she can be herself, and where she can do the things she wants to do. The Girl Scout troop fulfills this need, because it is the girl's own creation, founded and managed by her in co-operation with comrades of her own age."

The form of the laws, promise, and the tests for scout rank were revised by the National Council in January, 1919. At the opening of every Girl Scout troop meeting, there is a simple ceremony. After the scouts salute the flag of the United States and pledge their allegiance, the captain gives the crisp command:

"Scouts give me your promise."

They reply as follows:

"On my honor, I will try to be true to God and my country; to help others at all times; to obey the Scout laws."

"Scouts, repeat the laws" is the next command.

The Scouts answer:

"A Girl Scout is trustworthy; a Girl Scout is loyal; a Girl Scout is helpful; a Girl Scout is kind; a Girl Scout is clean; a Girl Scout it courteous; a Girl Scout is preserving; a Girl Scout is cheerful; a Girl Scout is thrifty."

"Scouts, give the motto" is the final order.

The girls answer, "Be prepared."

There are three classes of scouts—tenderfoot scouts, at least 10 years old; second-class scouts; first-class scouts, up to 18 years of age.

No girl may wear the Girl Scout pin, insignia, or uniform until she is formally accepted as a tenderfoot scout. To arrive at this distinction she must be at least 10 years old and she must pass the following test to the satisfaction of the Girl Scout officer in charge:

For headwork she must first of all know the Scout promise and laws, and the Girl Scout motto, "Be prepared." and the Girl Scout slogan, "Do a good turn daily;" she must also know by heart the first and last verses of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the full name of the President of the United States, the governor of her state, and the head of her city or town government.

For handwork she must be able to tie four sailor knots in approved fashion—the reef, bowline, cleve hitch, and sheepshank.

For health knowledge she learns the simple setting-up exercises and tenderfoot dril.

For helpfulness she promises to try to do a good turn daily to her troop, her school, her home, or her community.

The tests which must be passed for rank as a second-class scout carry on to more advanced stages; the development of headwork, hygiene, and general helpfulness, begun in tenderfoot scouthood.

The second-class scout, for headwork learns the history and meaning of the flag; knows her own measurements and how to record them; can recognize six animals, six birds, six flowers, six trees, and describe them so that another person may recognize them on sight; she learns the 16 points of the compass, how to prevent fire and how to stop it if fire starts; she is capable of using both the general-service code and the semaphore code. The second-class scout trains her powers of observation by playing games that require qiuck eye and dependable memory, such as noting at a glance the contents of a shop window, the appearance of passersby in the street, or the game of tracking and stalking in the open. For handwork, the second-class scout learns to lay and light a fire in a stove, in a gas stove, or in the open, using not more than two matches. Having made her fire, she learns to cook simple dishes, such as cereals, vegetables, meats, fish or eggs. She learns to set a table properly for two courses. She learns to make and air a bed properly, and she learns to make a bed for an invalid. The second-class scout also learns to sew a seam, hem, darn, either knit or crochet, and she must present a garment made by herself which demoutsrates her skill as a needlewoman. For health knowledge, the second-class scout demonstrates her ability to stop bleeding, to remove grit from the eye, to treat ivy poisoning, to bandage a sprained ankle, to remove a splinter, and she must know the scout laws of health. For helpfulness, she is required to apply what she learns for the benefit of others, in service rendered to the troop, school, home, church, or community. Thrift is encouraged in the second-class scout test, inasmuch as the girl is required to earn or save enough to purchase some personal or troop equipment. Scouts of the second class take pride in drilling with snap and precision.

A first-class scout is almost a grown-up woman, capable of bearing the responsibilities that will come to her in her own home and in the community. The tests require that she be trained to higher efficiency in headwork, handwork, health knowledge, and helpfulness. It is the ambition of every Girl Scout to reach the rank of a first-class scout, when she may work for the highest honor of all, the Golden Eaglet badge, for which the requirements have been raised from 14 points of proficiency badges to 21 points. Twenty-six scouts in the United States have won the Golden Eaglet under the 14 point ruling.

Picnic at Havana.

The annual picnic of the C., P. & St. L. employes was held Wednesday at Havana, a special train being operated from Springfield. A number of officials joined the party.

Aeroplane Race.

The Alton officials have agreed to race the Limited, southbound, No. 1, against an aeroplane between Joliet and Springfield during the opening of the state fair. The aviator will allow the train a twenty-five minute handicap, but claims that he will reach Springfield first. While the road, of course, will make no change in the existing schedule the race will attract much attention and will no doubt be an event of much interest especially to passengers on that train the day of the race.

New Orders Out.

Alton agents have received the following instructions from Supt. S. P. Henderson: "Permission has been given for the National Live Stock Exposition, held in Chicago and the National Dairy Show, also to be held in Chicago to display their posters in station waiting rooms within a radius of 250 to 300 miles of Chicago. You will also be furnished a poster entitled 'Put Fighting Blood in Your Business,' and one entitled 'Hold Onto Uncle Sam's Insurance,' which you will please arrange to post in station when received.'

Warns Trainmen.

Assistant Superintendent J. J. Butler of the Alton asks all trainmen to be careful about locking switches after using them. Some have been careless in this respect, inviting danger.

Maintenance Meeting Today.

The maintenance meeting today in the office of W. G. Bierd, federal manager in Chicago, is to include all four roads under the federal managers authority and takes in not only the maintenance of way department, but also the signaling. General Manager R. H. Johnson, of the Peoria & Pepin, and his chief clerk will be among those present. The Bloomington officials and chief clerks of the Alton, go up on No. 10 this morning. In addition to the operating and maintenance officials, S. U. Rhymer, signal engineer, will attend. The meeting is of considerable importance. It is understood that a representative of the railroad administration is to be present. He has asked for a statement of the condition of the Alton and extent of the expenditures of all maintenance departments on January 1, 1918, and wishes a similar report for July 1 of the present year. Each department must give a detailed report of the money expended in the eighteen months, interval and also be able to relate the changes in the condition of the property in that time. A similar report is being asked of every road under federal control. It is presumed that this checking up system is preliminary to the return of the roads to private ownership, looked for within the next six months.

Week Was Big Success

That "No accident week" was a success is the opinion of railroad officials who have just received reports from the results of the week's efforts. According to a report sent in the Director General of Railroads by Hale Holden, regional director of the central western region, only ninety-six were injured and four were killed in over 55,000 miles of railroads where approximately 327,000 men and women were employed.

During the same period in 1918, 447 were injured and nine were killed. The results of the week show a decrease of 356 casualties, or 79 per cent.

Want Farmers Cooperation.

This is the season when right of way fires may cost heavily and destroy a large amount of the food supply. The Chicago & Alton management is faithfully doing its part to avoid this economic waste and is asking every farmer along the right of way to cooperate in moving the shocks of wheat, oats and other grains and also hay away from the right of way. By shifting the products of the fields 100 feet away from the railroad land and then plowing a furrow there is small danger of any loss by fire. The Alton officials have agreed to furnish section men to assist in transferring the grain and hay to a safe location and many farmers have availed themselves of this offer. However, it has been found that very few farmers have plowed a furrow along the fence to prevent fire from spreading over the stubble and reaching the shocks and stacks beyond. It is earnestly desired that all land owners or tenants assist in preserving the food supply by plowing this protective furrow. It is believed that this reasonable request will be generally complied with when its importance is realized. With the government ownership of railways all fire claims fall upon the government and ultimately must be paid by the public. Every fire that can be avoided prevents that much waste. The railroad officials are willing and anxious to do their share. They are hopeful that the farmers will meet them half way.

Local Shop Notes.

Three new smoke-jacks have been received at the C. P. & St. L. R. R. shops and will be placed in position soon in the roof of the round house shed. The smoke-jacks are lined with a metal lath which affords a good foundation for a layer of cement which will be put on after the jacks are placed in position. The concrete lining makes the jacks absolutely fire-proof and safe.

CENTENARY EXPOSITION RESEMBLES WORLD FAIR

Official at the Columbus, Ohio, Event, a White Hall Boy, Brings Story of the Greatest Missionary Celebration in the History of the World—Taste of Heav'n on Earth is One Way Speaker Expressed Himself.

White Hall, Ill., July 16.—Rev. Harry R. Evans, one of the officials in charge of the South African exhibit at the Methodist Centenary Celebration of Missions, held at Columbus, Ohio, from June 20 to July 13, spoke of the celebration in the M. E. church Sunday evening that created such interest that he was prevailed upon to speak again on Wednesday evening, when he went into more detail and presented illustrations that revealed the magnitude of the exposition. Rev. Evans is a student pastor at Wesleyan University, Bloomington, and he came here direct from Ohio to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Evans. His connection with the ministry so far is most promising, he being an unassuming type of young man with a native gift of oratory and a rather comprehensive view of the needs of mankind.

The success of this great undertaking at Columbus may be partly measured by the fact that on the day of the world champion prize fight in the same state, the attendance at the church exposition exceeded that at the prize fight by over two to one, some statisticians putting it at three to one, indicating an increasing loftier attitude on the part of mankind. The Columbus exposition was a climax to the centenary movement in the united Methodist church, a movement that went beyond the dreams of its most enthusiastic supporters. Referring to the movement which led up to the Columbus exposition, Rev. Evans says:

"When we look upon it, it seems that the day when God spoke to the children of Israel to go forward has not passed, and today those who have not hardened their hearts can hear above the tumult and the shouting of a world of sin the voice of the Most High. That voice has spoken to all the churches. The result has been that the Presbyterian church has had its New Era movement, the Christian church has had its men and millions movement, the Methodist church has had its wonderful centenary movement, and other churches have had similar movements. God's judgment obviously rests upon those who have failed to respond in these tremendous days to the call of a world needing reconstruction. Those who have responded to the call of a needy world, a world needing heart reconstruction such as can only be accomplished by Jesus Christ, may rejoice that they have not been missing Christians. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of Broadway Tabernacle in New York, has said of the centenary: 'The successful drive of the Methodists of the United States for one hundred and forty million dollars for work at home and abroad is the most stupendous achievement of any branch of the Christian church in modern history. It is in every way wonderful. No matter from what standpoint it is surveyed, it dazzles the imagination and thrills the heart. The length and the breadth and the height of the work are equal. It runs far into the future. It is as wide as the world, and it goes down deep into the soul. It was a money-raising scheme, and it was more than that; it was a vast program of spiritual culture. All ecclesiastical workers will be able to study this enterprise for years with profit.'

"I am glad that it was possible for me to be connected with the great celebration of the victory of the centenary at Columbus in an official way. It can be compared in magnitude only to a world's fair. The only difference between it and world's fairs held in the United States is that they were not from the church and this was. There were about 12,000 enlisted workers at the celebration, giving from six to twenty-four hours of service each day. Fifteen thousand men and women took part in the greatest religious drama of today, written by Dr. J. E. Growther, and entitled "The Wayfarer." Two thousand singers were trained to sing praises unto the Lord. Three thousand children were enlisted for various kinds of service, and there were 4,500 Christian stewards whose principal duty was to explain the exhibits gathered together from all parts of the world. The largest moving picture screen in the world was used at the celebration, and the largest pictures ever shown were produced upon it. There was a trombone choir of one hundred pieces, organized specially for the celebration, which brought before the music-loving public some types of trombones formerly lost to us. There was music by the famous Rainbow division band and the Great Lakes Naval Training Station band. The average attendance daily was 40,000. On July 4th the Protestant churches of Columbus issued a statement against the prize fight. The result was that there was an attendance of approximately 50,000 at the prize fight and over 100,000 at the centenary celebration. That was a wonderful victory of the real over the purely physical.

"The exhibits were from all parts of the world, including curios, and were housed in eight buildings on the Ohio state fair grounds. They were interesting and instructive, but were not half so uplifting and inspiring as the people and the spirit of the people. The religious atmosphere was too strong to be penetrated by the forces of evil to any great extent. That some of the great men of the world spoke there, including ex-President Taft, W. G. McAdoo, W. J. Bryan, Navy Secretary Josephus Daniels, Dr. John R. Mott, Richard Pearson Hobson, Treasury Secretary Carter Glass, Sergeant York, Commander Read of the NC-4 and others. Even the great southern evangelist, Bob Jones, conducted a revival in the big tent, and got converts as in days gone by. Every noon a siren called the throngs of people to silence, meditation and prayer.

"One could not leave the great centenary celebration and honestly feel that it was merely a big show. Every one felt that it was the greatest occurrence in the Christian world of modern time. Some said that it was the greatest baptism and induement of spiritual power since Pentecost. I would say that it compared very favorably with the Wesleyan and Lutheran reformations, and that the world today needs the reformation quite badly. We have a chance now to make a heart reconstruction of this world. If we take our great opportunity, we must turn to Jesus Christ. The era in which we live is an era of co-operation. We have our large corporations for business co-operation and we are even talking enthusiastically of a League of Nations. Now the only way in which our organizations can be co-operative is in the Christ. Would it not be a good thing for we Christians, after this centenary and other similar movements, to declare a league offensive and defensive with every soldier of Jesus Christ? We need that as much as we need a League of Nations, and it is coming in the inter-church movement. We may keep our different opinions, but we can not afford to get in one another's way in the work of the Kingdom.

"After having been a part of the centenary movement, I can say that I feel that the greatest work on earth is in making the world Christian. I think we ought to have a taste of heaven here on earth, and Christ brings heaven on earth."

Farmer Was Unable to Find Relief from Troubles Till He Took Tanlac—"Feel Grand Now."

"I tried for twenty-eight long years to find a medicine or treatment that would overcome my troubles, but I never had any success until I got hold of Tanlac," said John Leaznby, a well known farmer who lives at the corner of Knox and Ohio streets, Galesburg, Ill., a few days ago.

"I had suffered so long and had failed so completely to find anything that would help me," he continued, "that I had about come to the conclusion that I would never be a well man again. I had rheumatism in my legs so bad that at times I could hardly walk. When I went to the field to try to do a little work I would soon be in so much misery that I would just have to unhook my horses and go back to the house. My kidneys were also in bad condition, and there were times when it just seemed that the pains in the small of my back would kill me. Many times I would be in agony all night long on account of these pains, and wouldn't sleep at all. Then when I tried to get up in the morning these pains would strike me and I would just have to lie back down and roll over to the edge of the bed and ease out by degrees. Then on top of all of these troubles, my stomach went back on me, and everything I ate would sour and cause me to be bloated up with gas for hours at a time. I would have the worst sort of cramping spells every day. I tell you, I was in bad shape, and as I just said, I had began to think that I would have to spend the rest of my life suffering just that way.

"Well, Tanlac came along then, and I read in the papers where a good many people who suffered as I did had gotten relief by taking it, so I bought a bottle and commenced on it myself. Well, sir, Tanlac just simply knocked my troubles winding and I am as sound and well now as I ever was in my life. I have a fine appetite and everything I eat agrees with me all right. The rheumatism has left me, and those awful pains in my back are a thing of the past. I work hard every day now, and when night comes I just stretch out in bed and sleep like a boy right through until daylight the next morning. I don't have to have any help to get out of bed, either, for I feel so fine every morning now that I just spring out of bed like a youngster, and after eating a good, hearty breakfast I get my horses and am off to the fields feeling grand. While I am at it, I will tell you about the good Tanlac did my wife, too. She had been in bad health for fifteen years, and was really in about as bad condition as I was, and Tanlac overcame her troubles and built her up to where she is as well and strong as she ever was in her life. She has a fine appetite, too, and you just ought to be at our house at meal time and see us eat. Yes, sir, Tanlac has been a godsend to both of us, and we never lose a chance to speak a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve; in Meredosia by Mr. R. B. Field; in Murrayville by M. E. Gilbert; in Waverly by the Wyle Drug Co.—Adv.

MILLIONS
Suffer from Acid-Stomach

Millions of people suffer year after year from ailments affecting practically every part of the body, never dreaming that their ill health can be traced directly to acid-stomach. Here is the reason: poor digestion means poor nourishment of the different organs and tissues of the body. The blood is impoverished—becomes weak, thin, sluggish. Ailments of many kinds spring from such conditions. Biliousness, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, general weakness, loss of power and energy, headache, insomnia, nervousness, mental depression—even more serious ailments such as catarrh and cancer of the stomach, intestinal ulcers, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble—all of these can often be traced directly to acid-stomach.

Keep a sharp lookout for the first symptoms of acid-stomach—indigestion, heartburn, belching, food repeating, that awful painful bloat after eating, and sour, gassy stomach. EATONIC, the wonderful modern remedy for acid-stomach, is guaranteed to bring quick relief from these stomach miseries. Thousands say they never dreamed that anything could bring such speedy relief—and make them feel so much better in every way. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Make your life worth living—no aches or pains—no blues or melancholy—no more of that tired, listless feeling. Be well and strong. Get back your physical and mental punch; your vim, vigor and vitality. You will always be weak and ailing as long as you have acid-stomach. So get rid of it now. Take EATONIC Tablets—they taste good—you eat them like a bit of candy. Your druggist has EATONIC—50 cents for a big box. Get a box from him today and if you are not satisfied he will refund your money.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. Worthline, 2843 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

STOCKS BREAK TOWARD CLOSE

Numerous Substantial Gains of Early Part of Season are Replaced by Net Losses.

New York, July 17.—Stocks were firm to strong at the opening of today's active trading making further variable gains during the relatively dull mid-session but broke with considerable violence towards the close when numerous substantial gains were replaced by net losses.
The reversal lacked definite explanation in authoritative quarters but rumors were current that the financial powers, aided by the federal reserve board intend to issue another rule against excessive speculation. Much of the day's news was favorable to the long account, embracing further advices of expansion in the steel industry, higher prices for copper and allied metals and comparatively easy rates for call money. There was also a pronounced readjustment of the foreign exchange situation but not until rates on London had fallen to new minimums.
Speculative interest continued to revolve around the oils, motors and the various commodity shares. Equipments also contributed appreciably to the broader dealings.
Copper made little headway. Sales amounted to 1,7000,000 shares
Liberty bonds were firm and foreign issues steadied but rails and industrials were slightly irregular.

CORN VALUES SUFFER SETBACKS

Foreign Exchange Demoralization Labor Troubles, Severe Breaks in Hog Market and aFilure of Bullish Weather Predictions Factors.

Chicago, July 17.—Foreign exchange demoralization together with labor troubles, severe breaks in the hog market and failure of bullish weather predictions brought about material setbacks in the value of corn. The close was heavy 3-4c. to 3 1-4c. net lower, with September $1.94 to $1.94 1-4 and Dec. $1.62 7-8 to $1.63 1-8. Oats lost 1c. to 2 1-8c. and provisions 2 to 65.
Notwithstanding assertions that record-breaking declines in exchange on London were due largely to immense European buying of commodities in the United States the fact was beyond doubt that the corn trade for the most part viewed the exchange situation as depressing.
Much of the selling during the last hour was inspired by knowledge that aside from industrial clashes elsewhere a serious increase of disemployment in Chicago was imminent. Besides the price of hogs had shrunk overnight.
Oats were forced down by virtually the same considerations that weakened corn.
Provisions gave way with cereals and hogs.

COAL For Winter
There is bound to be a shortage of coal next winter if the public is not awakened to the necessity of placing orders now. The output of the mines is far below normal, as many of the miners are returning to their native land. Because of this shortage in help it will be impossible to meet the demand when cold weather arrives.

OUR 39th
ANNUAL JULY SALE BEGAN
WEDNESDAY, JULY 9th--ENDS SATURDAY, JULY 19th.
The Sale That is Generally Recognized as One of Jacksonville's Greatest Sales.

Never in all our experience has it been so difficult to prepare for a sale of this kind at this season. That prices are advancing almost daily is a matter of common knowledge. The cost of raw material has doubled in the past four years. The cost of dyeing, too, has more than doubled, and the labor cost in the making has trebled. Under such conditions the gathering together of such a vast collection of dependable merchandise to sell at such sensationally low prices is an achievement of which we feel justly proud.

The prices are so low in the light of the present market, that the values are actually better relatively than those offered in past years.

Important Notice

Because of the great variety and the limited quantity of some kinds, we cannot accept mail or phone orders or make charges in this sale. No goods on approval. We limit amounts in some cases.

For weeks and months past we have scoured the markets, meeting with disappointment at almost every turn. For a time the difficulties seemed insurmountable, but our annual sale must be held and tremendous sacrifices on our part, together with the co-operation of some of America's leading dealers have at last made it possible. Indeed so extraordinary are these offerings that we feel safe in predicting the greatest July Sale in our history. Shrewd buyers will supply their needs for the entire summer and fall in this wonderful sale. We cannot too strongly urge you, therefore, to be on hand early for first selections.
